MENS LEGIS
first law firm in Macedonia

MENS LEGIS is the first law firm in Macedonia, established in 1995 with headquarters in Skopje. MENS LEGIS is a firm with a proven success and experience record having provided in-depth services within the traditional areas of law as well as staying current with the changing Macedonian legal environment. The firm is specialized in FDI, M&A, legal due diligence, banking and finance, mining, energy and infrastructure projects, corporate and business law, competition and antitrust, labour law etc.

Since 2000, MENS LEGIS Law Firm is known to have played a significant role in the big-ticket transactions and projects in Macedonia. Some of these projects include: privatization of the Macedonian telecommunications operator; legal due diligence in the privatization of the Macedonian state energy company; privatization of the state thermal power plant; development of the biggest copper and gold property in Macedonia; acquisition of the biggest tobacco factory in Macedonia; acquisition in the insurance business, etc.

The firm's team is prepared to address the unique and increasing needs of national and international clients through personalized services. MENS LEGIS is committed to the principles of integrity and confidentially to provide prompt and reliable services to its clients. MENS LEGIS's culture does not promote one-time relationships with clients as MENS LEGIS's approach is designed to create long-term relationships based on trust. MENS LEGIS commits senior level attention to each client throughout the assignment and beyond, and has built a strong reputation for integrity while generating outstanding results for its clients. In many projects, the firm has engaged in risk advisory for the clients.

MENS LEGIS is regular contributor to many international magazines and projects such as the World Bank's Doing Business, IFRL, and others. The European Times for 2016 and 2017 has rated MENS LEGIS as a world-class law firm, essential partner for investors in Macedonia.

MENS LEGIS has participated in many first-of-a-kind projects in Macedonia, and has given substantial contributions to modifications of the Macedonian regulatory framework in order to improve the legal environment to do business in Macedonia.

Among the recent successfully finished projects of MENS LEGIS is the finalization of the exit option of one of the biggest players on the Macedonian telecommunications market.

The plan for the future of the firm is to maintain the position on the market and expand the activities. The firm believes that the anticipated EU and NATO accession of Macedonia will enable investment opportunities in the country and, therefore, increase the investment activity.
